

No Winter Lasts Forever

Greetings Michael,

The first real sloppy Derby track since 2019 and a lack of mud experience (his mother wasn't a mudder?) didn't stop Sovereignty. And spring is finally here, even as it has continued to test our patience - which of course is a true spring ritual in these parts. We have some great articles to share with you as you hopefully enjoy all of the activities and rituals of the season:

- From the Journal, some insight on the transition to Berkshire Hathaway's next CEO, Greg Abel, after the Oracle announced he would step down at the end of the year.
- A summary of economists' views on a potential recession which is helpful perspective on some of the fears and headlines.
- A Bloomberg video on how increased compensation to athletes has not come close to fixing major problems in college sports.
- Finally, why the newest ChatGPT model was pulled and what we all need to keep in mind when using AI.

As always, we would love to hear feedback from you on these articles and look forward to connecting with you again soon.

Mike & Perry

Mike Newman & Perry Adams

West Shore Bank Wealth Management

231-346-1528

miken@westshorebank.com

Greg Abel's Challenge: Lead Berkshire Into a New Era Without the Buffett Touch

May 5, 2025

Warren Buffett has done what he can to prepare his successor at Berkshire Hathaway. But there is...

Read more →

The smartest things economists are saying about a possible recession

May 1, 2025

In the first quarter of 2025, the US economy shrank for the first time in three years. This...

Read more →

Video: Why Paying Players Hasn't Fixed College Sports

May 2, 2025

Despite a handful of superstars earning eye-popping figures, the new era of paid college athletes...

Read more →

How an embarrassing U-turn exposed a concerning truth about ChatGPT

May 1, 2025

Always remember that it's designed not to answer your question, but to give you the answer you...

Read more →

400 East Eighth Street - Traverse City, MI 49686

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, unsubscribe here.